Prospect Recreation & Park District (PRPD) receives grant from Great Outdoors Colorado

Great Outdoors Colorado (GOCO) was created in 1992 when the voters of Colorado approved the formation of the Great Outdoors Colorado Trust Fund. The GOCO Amendment to the Colorado Constitution (Article XXVII) dedicates a portion of Colorado state lottery proceeds to projects that preserve, protect, and enhance Colorado's wildlife, parks, rivers, trails, and open spaces. GOCO began awarding grants in 1994, and since that time has awarded approximately $650 million. This amount has gone toward more than 3,063 projects throughout the state.

GOCO has awarded a $100,000 Local Parks and Outdoor Recreation Grant to Prospect Recreation & Park District for use at Applewood Park. PRPD brought forward matching funds to the project, thus allowing for a number of improvements to this heavily used park. The existing fence bordering the Agricultural Ditch will be removed and replaced with new nine gauge chain link fencing. The large playground will receive a new swing set and four other pieces of play equipment. This play equipment is designed for the 2 to 5 year old age group, addressing a need that was not being met at Applewood. Engineered wood fiber will be added to all three play pods. A trellis will be constructed immediately adjacent to the picnic pavilion, allowing for three more picnic tables and effectively extending the useable area of the picnic shelter. Two new soccer goals have already been purchased and are in place. Picnic tables and benches will be installed in appropriate locations. Lastly, a concrete drainage pan will be installed in the parking lot to correct a long standing issue, and the parking lot will be resurfaced.

PRPD greatly appreciates the participation of GOCO in the Applewood Park Improvement Project. GOCO has been instrumental in allowing PRPD to continue to upgrade its parks and facilities. Huge thanks to GOCO and the Colorado Lottery for their continued support of Colorado parks and recreation!
